THE REFERENCE SHELF

is published to make available when needed good debates, collections of articles, briefs, bibliographies and study outlines on timely subjects for public discussion. Each number is devoted to a single subject and, unless otherwise noted, contains briefs, references and selected articles. To make the material available at the time of greatest need, publication is irregular. Each volume contains ten or more separate issues, about 1500 pages in all, and now covers a year in time. Single numbers, 90c unless otherwise noted.

The Reference Shelf is indexed in the Readers' Guide to Periodical Literature, Education Index, Industrial Arts Index, Cumulative Book Index, and Book Review Digest.

INTRODUCTION

This Debate Index is supplementary to the Debate Index compiled by Edith M. Phelps, Reference Shelf Vol. 14, no. 9, first issued May 1932, revised edition published June 1939. That index was an outcome of materials first included in the Debaters' Manual (6th edition revised 1929). The edition of 1939 incorporated all worth-while materials previously indexed, plus those presented in a supplement published in 1935 and those appearing subsequently down to May 1939. The present supplementary index brings this listing of materials down to the present time.

The plan of the Debate Index has been to present a subject list of help for debaters and students of public questions, particularly of a controversial nature; more specifically, debates, briefs and summaries of arguments, bibliographies, and collections of speeches and articles on a single subject, especially when pro and con. The subject headings used are those of the Readers' Guide to Periodical Literature. Since the last index was issued new subjects have come up, in line with changing public developments, national and international. These have been included so far as possible, and earlier subjects have been reinforced with more recent material where available.

Materials have been drawn from many sources, text-books and annuals of debate, indexes to periodicals, pamphlets and books; including, among others, the Readers' Guide to Periodical Literature, the International Index, Vertical File Service, the Cumulative Book Index, Public Affairs Information Service, and the Bibliographic Index. Limitations of space have made a selective plan essential; the endeavor has been made, however, to include as far as possible the more pertinent and desirable material.

THE REFERENCE SHELF

In addition to the specific list of "Materials Analyzed" and the many miscellaneous references, a list is presented of "Some Valuable Supplementary Materials for Debaters and Students of Public Questions," in which will be found various helpful background and factual materials and discussions, public speeches, radio debates, and briefer lists of references than the index has been intended to cover. Some of these have been included in the index also.

CONTEMPORARY SOCIAL PROBLEMS: DISCUSSION SERIES

A new series of "textbooks" based on the annual college debate question, planned to provide the coach and his debate squads and classes with sound background material. Special features are: problems, required readings, and examinations.

Each book presents basic material on a problem of great social significance that is being widely discussed. The books are compilations of the opinions of recognized authorities. They deal comprehensively with the underlying events that have preceded an existing crisis and discuss possible solutions from many angles. Bibliographies and review questions follow each chapter.
